News

New Mann Website

Mann Library will be launching a new website on October 25th which has been designed to provide a user-friendly experience. With improved navigation and functionality throughout, access to information about the library, librarians, resources, and spaces has never been easier. Watch our current site the week of October 17th for an announcement, which will include a link to the beta site and information on how you can provide feedback!

On October 27, a book talk by Prof. Drew Harvell, Sea of Glass: Searching for the Blaschkas' Fragile Legacy in an Ocean at Risk, will open Mann's fall 2016 exhibit program and year-long celebration of fieldwork and scientific exhibitions.

New Faces at Mann--Fall 2016 Edition

- Kate Ghezzi-Kopel, Applied Health Sciences Librarian
- Chris Johns, Lending Coordinator
- Mary Lee "Mel" Jensen, Reference Assistant
- Megan Benson, Reference Assistant
- Deborah Cooper, Collections Specialist

Listen, Share: Race & Empathy in the Mann Lobby

As part of the Cornell Council for the Arts Biennial of 2016, Professors Corinna Loeckenhoff (Dept. of Human Development), Anthony Burrow (Dept. of Human Development) and Francois Guimbretiere (Dept. of Information Science) have created an installation for the Mann Library lobby—the Race & Empathy Project—that invites the Cornell community to reach across boundaries, share stories and find empathy.

New Makerspace This Fall at Mann

This fall, Cornell University Library and Academic Technologies are debuting a “makerspace” in the 112 Mann computing lab right off the lobby. This new facility will be a creative, DIY space where people can gather to create, invent, and learn. Over the summer, the existing desktop computers were rearranged to make room for making equipment and a flexible workspace in the back half of the lab.

Library Services for Geneva Station

As of July 1st, 2016, the Frank A. Lee Library at the New York State Agricultural Experiment Station in Geneva, New York is closing its doors. In place of the physical library, a suite of services will meet the information needs of the NYSAES community.
